

CHARGES MAN WITH INSULTING WIFE

Personal Violence Between Enraged Parties Narrowly Averted.

FOUR WHITE MEN ON TRIAL

Sent to Corporation Court for Breaking Into Freight Car.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 109 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., September 28. Harry Sykes, a young man employed at Grundy, a station on the S. A. L. in Brunswick county, believing from statements made by his wife that she had been grossly insulted by S. A. Coleman, telegrapher and agent for the S. A. L. at Grundy, forced Coleman, at the point of a pistol, to get up and dress last night and accompany him to this city.

All of the parties concerned in the case arrived in the city at 4 o'clock this morning, and to prevent any trouble, Coleman was taken to the police station.

Sykes was informed later that as there were no charges against Coleman in this city, he would be dismissed from further custody, and he was advised that it was necessary for him to make his charge in the county where the alleged offense is said to have been committed.

Sykes was very bitter in his manner and arraignment of Coleman, who denies any knowledge of the alleged insult, and at one time it was feared that personal violence would be resorted to, and all parties were warned that bonds would be required if any more threats were made in the presence of the police.

Sent on to Court. Malley Burnett, John Whitehouse, Charles Warren, and Ernest Tias, the four white men arrested on last Wednesday night on the charge of breaking and entering a freight car on the Seaboard Air Line, were tried in the police court this morning and sent on to the October term of the Corporation Court for trial. The evidence against the accused was very strong, and Whitehouse, one of the accused, gave valuable information, which led to the recovery of some of the stolen property.

Constipation

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery and internal pain. Thanks to you, I am free from all that this morning. You can use this in behalf of suffering humanity. B. F. Fisher, Roanoke, Ill.

Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Grip. 25c. 50c. Never fails. Bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C.C.C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 350

Geo. W. Anderson & Sons

215 E. Broad Street

Our Line of Rugs

Cannot be surpassed, and we make a specialty of the larger sizes. You will find the Ardebil, the Balkan, Saxony and all the leading makes in the softest shades of colors.

The Same About Our Cheaper Grade of Rugs

The same care has been taken in the selection, and you will find a large assortment to select from.

Prices
$12.50, $13.50,
$15.00, $18.50,
and $19.50

Sizes 9x12 Feet.

Lace Curtains and Portieres, Latest Novelties

Anderson's Carpet House

Dr. Lyon's PERFECT Tooth Powder

Used by people of refinement in every part of the world where the use of the tooth-brush is known, for Almost Half a Century.

Mullen allowed Whitehouse bail in the sum of $500.

Personal News Notes. Richard Taylor, an inmate of the jail, fell this morning while walking in his cell and struck his nose against the steel cage, breaking the bridge of his nose.

POWHATAN FAIR IS A CREDIT TO COUNTY

First Exhibition Ends in Blaze of Glory—Splendid Showing of Farm Products and Live Stock—Woman's Department a Great Feature.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Powhatan, Va., September 28.—What was really the first annual exhibition of the Powhatan County Fair and to-day closed here this afternoon and to-night in a blaze of glory, and the successful pulling off of the county exhibition is a source of congratulation to the good people of the county, because it has put the fair on a permanent basis, and there is no longer any doubt that the Powhatan county will have a fair and a county agricultural exhibit every fall for many years to come, and if all of them do as much good for the county and create as much new interest in twentieth century development as this fair has done, the time is not far distant when old Powhatan will be right in the front rank among the progressive and up-to-date counties of the State.

The fair, which opened only yesterday morning, and closed this afternoon, with an old-fashioned tournament, followed by the coronation ball to-night, was in all respects a success. The people turned out in great numbers, and they were not at all shy about showing what they had made on the good lands of the county this year. The exhibits of farm products of all kinds from the thickest seeds to the bulkiest stalks; from the humblest of grasses to the aristocratic timothy and alfalfa hay; from the most insignificant looking squash to the most gorgeous of pumpkins; from the merest samples to the most luscious of melons; from the little beans to the greater ones; from the smallest of potatoes to the great tubers; from the old-time bullet to the great crimson fruit of latter days; from the old-fashioned crab apples to the most enticing of the latest day wines; and so on along down the line the exhibits were great.

They did not stop there for, while there is not yet a track on the grounds, and the facilities for the exhibition of live stock were rather limited, a few pens that were provided for hogs and pigs were well-filled, the stalls that were hurriedly arranged for horses and cattle were crowded, and the exhibits in the poultry department were well worth going miles to see, and all of this exhibit was confined to Powhatan county.

Beginning of Fair. Last year a number of Powhatan folks, encouraged and helped by F. S. Farrar, the assistant State agent in charge of the agricultural demonstration work made a little show at the courthouse, and while no prizes were offered, a real good show was made. This effort encouraged the people, and this year they endeavored to exhibit on a larger scale, and their effort took the form of a county fair. Now, to get up a county fair there must needs be an offer of premiums, and all that kind of thing. Demonstrator Farrar and his co-laborers were equal to the emergency. The Richmond Chamber of Commerce, at Farrar's solicitation, came to the rescue with a cash contribution to provide for premiums; the Wood Seed Company, of Richmond, and other sections of Virginia got busy; the people of the county took financial interest, and together a lot of cash premiums amounting to $100 were gotten together, and a whole lot of premiums in the way of what the old war-time folks used to call "tax in kind," also came to the front. These additional premiums were made up of all kinds of implements, household articles, and many other useful things offered by merchants and manufacturers, and altogether the premium list amounted to a good deal more than the actual cash offered.

The Powhatan Tobacco Company, Inc., owns near to the village a whole lot of ground, a great big warehouse and numerous outbuildings. All of these were placed at the disposal of the fair folks, and thus they had room for all of the exhibits.

Not far away from here is the St. Emma Industrial and Agricultural College, an institution established some years ago for the industrial education and development of colored boys, by Mrs. Morelle, of Philadelphia. Among other good things that this Belmonte school has brought to the surface is a splendid cornet band, and this good band volunteered to furnish the fair with good music and real good music they made.

An additional musical aggregation that would make Folk Miller and his crowd ashamed of themselves when it comes down to old-time Virginia rollicking music, furnished indoor entertainment from a variety of stringed instruments. If this aggregation played any tune that was born since 1860, the writers accurately trained musical ear failed to detect it, but perhaps that was all the better for the folks who heard it, and apparently enjoyed it. When folks are very busy taking in the fine exhibits that such fine producers of good things are the people of Powhatan county, they do not care to waste very much time listening to any kind of music.

Plans for Next Year. The affair which started last year as a mere side exhibit of the farmers' co-operative demonstration work, under the guidance of F. S. Farrar, has blossomed out into a county fair association, with a corps of officers who will push it to great success. Already plans have been perfected by the association to have a great fair next year, and already arrangements have been made to acquire the grounds here for all of the uses of a fair. Next year the association will show on its own grounds, which will be big enough to allow for all kinds of exhibits and for speed trials and horse-racing and all of that kind of thing. This year, with the contracted grounds and facilities, the fair folks necessarily had to confine themselves to a limited show. Corn and tobacco were necessarily the principal features. In the tobacco booths the dark shipping and stemming goods, the sun-cured and the Virginia Burleys held the fort. Among the prize winners were A. W. Porter, H. Webb, J. M. Webb, Jack Webb and T. Morrison. Corn was an immense feature at the fair, and the exhibit was something great. Premiums were offered in considerable numbers, and much value to old folks, but special inducements were offered to the boys' corn clubs of the county. The result was that the exhibits were very large and very encouraging. Among the old folks who walked off with corn prizes were Michael Bros., W. W. Michael, Dr. T. S. Henning and D. E. Brown. The boys who won prizes were: Locksley and Scott Henning, first prize; Russell and Guy MacDearmon, second prize; Philip Brauer, third prize.

Praise for Women's Department. The women's department was a gem within itself, all kinds of embroidery, bed-quilting, hemstitching and other handiwork were on exhibition, to say nothing of cooked things, preserves, pickles and what-not, and if all of them did not get premiums they ought to have done so, and maybe they will next year when the treasury of the Powhatan County Fair Association is a trifle more plenteous.

One of the largest contributors to the success of the Powhatan county fair was a company which had nothing on exhibition, the Tidewater and Western Railway. When Dr. Henning and Haskins Hobson and R. D. Alhnut and E. A. Baugh and the Webbs and the Michauxs and the Garretts and the Simpsons and the general superintendent, W. A. Rodenbaugh, got busy to work the fair off, they went down to Richmond and talked with General Manager Talcott, of the little narrow-gauge road, and he said in effect, "All right boys, what do you want?"

They just wanted special trains and half-fare rates for the visitors and the farmers were readily put at their disposal, and these little special trains carried a whole lot of folks to and from the show, and the trains were manned by a most gentlemanly and accommodating crowd of conductors and trainmen.

A railroad can help a county or a community a whole lot when it will and this Tidewater and Western is mighty helpful as far as it can be. F. S. W.

SYNAGOGUE DESTROYED. Recently Purchased Building Is Burned to Ground. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Greensboro, N. C., September 28.—The Jewish Synagogue on Lee Street, was practically destroyed by fire today, only the carpet and the holy of holies being saved. The church had been recently purchased from the Friends congregation, when it erected a larger building on Arlington Street, and it had just been thoroughly overhauled and improved.

The large barn of C. C. Townsend was burned an hour earlier, and it is supposed that sparks from this building were blown through a gable lattice work of the synagogue and smoldered. The whole roof was ablaze before the second fire alarm was sounded. The Townsend barn caught from sparks in a burning trash pile in Townsend's yard. The residence of Eugene Robinson was slightly damaged.

SAUNDERS IS PLEASED. Thinks Conditions in Fifth Favor His Election to Congress. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Roanoke, Va., September 28.—Judge E. W. Saunders, Democratic candidate for Congress in the Fifth District, was here today and expressed himself as being highly pleased with conditions in the district. He has been making an active canvass throughout the district, and says he has been greatly encouraged wherever he has spoken. He feels confident that in event the Republican insurgents in his district nominate a candidate at the convention in Martinsville to-morrow his election will be assured.

Up to this time Judge Saunders' Republican opponent, Mr. Parsons, has not been active in his campaign, and the reported activity which was to have been shown by the Republican National Committee has not yet been evidenced. Judge Saunders left here this afternoon for Grayson county, where he will remain a week. He will make a number of speeches at various points throughout the county.

Long Drought Broken. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—Rockingham people woke up this morning and found the long drought at an end. A terrific electric storm yesterday afternoon became a general rain by night. Weather Observer Heatwole, of Dale Enterprise, reported a fall of 1.17 inches in one hour during the afternoon. Farmers will now proceed with seeding, and Harrisonburg's electric and water famine will be averted.

Lad Seriously Injured. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—A colt fell on Onsey Huffman, eighteen years old, son of Andrew Huffman, near McChesville, Rockingham county, breaking his leg and inflicting probable internal injuries. Huffman was found lying unconscious in the road.

Plummer, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Roper and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Townes, Jr., J. M. Oliver, a former resident of Petersburg, but at present living at Cumberland, Md., is visiting friends in this city. This is his second visit to Petersburg since 1871.

Miss Mary J. Camp, daughter of City Collector of Taxes W. H. Camp, who has been spending the summer in Europe, returned home yesterday. Detective John H. Heatwole left this morning for Norfolk with a warrant for John Edward Warker, a negro who was arrested in Norfolk county for the Petersburg authorities yesterday. Warker is wanted here for feloniously cutting a negro woman several months ago.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Strikes Twice in Same Place. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., September 28.—For the second time in two years lightning yesterday struck the residence of Weather Observer Lewis J. Heatwole, at Dale Enterprise. The bolt landed in the identical spot that was hit in the summer of 1908, thus contradicting the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. As before, nobody was injured this time. Bricks were knocked from a chimney and the plaster in an upper room was loosened.

Greater Richmond Growing Yet Greater

We have some Choice Opportunities from first hands we can recommend you, and our experience of thirty-eight years, marked by conservatism and personal success should be considered.

SOME POINTERS THAT WILL MAKE YOU BIG PROFITS

Main Street Investments
EAST OF MONROE PARK.
PRICE, $4,750. RENTS, $400.
Business fast growing this way.

Chestnut Hill Homes
$2,100—7 ROOMS, 50-FOOT LOT.
Good tenant at $200.
$2,750—QUEEN ANNE COTTAGE.
Nice corner; eight rooms.

Five-Story Factory
BIG CORNER LOT, 45,000 SQ. FT.
Patent elevator; near railroad.
ONLY $10,000. A BARGAIN.

Clay Street
NEAR SECOND.
THREE-STORY BRICK.
ONLY $3,400.

CHEAPEST CITY LOTS ON MARKET

WE CHALLENGE A COMPARISON.
West End
$4, $5, $6 and $10 per foot—Ashland, Blair, Winder, Claiborne and other streets. Some 200 feet deep.
EAST END
$4, $5, $6 and $7 per foot—Garrison, Dickinson and Rogers Streets, one block Oakwood Avenue trolley.

EASY TERMS. MONTHLY PAYMENTS. SIZE TO SUIT.
BUY FROM FIRST HANDS AND SAVE THE PROFITS.

J. THOMPSON BROWN & CO.

Auction Sales, This Day.

By The Valentine Auction Company, Auctioneers.

Magnificent Rosewood Bedroom Furniture

FINE BED LINES, CURLED HAIR MATTRESS, BRASS BED, TABLE AND BUREAU, SCARFS, WARDROBES, FINE FLOOR COVERINGS, TAPESTRIES, MAHOGANY FOLDING BED, TABLES, CHAIRS, ROCKERS, WALNUT AND MAPLE BED ROOM SUITS, FINE PICTURES, ETC.

AT AUCTION AT THE RESIDENCE OF THE LATE MR. ALFRED MOSES, NO. 1010 PARK AVENUE, AT 10:30 O'CLOCK, To-Day (Thursday), September 29th.

The large library of miscellaneous Novels, Standard Works, Old English Editions, etc., will be sold at 7:30 P. M. TO-DAY. Ladies invited to attend these sales.

THE VALENTINE AUCTION CO.

By Green & Redd, Real Estate Auctioneers.

AUCTION SALE OF

No. 910 West Main Street

A MODERN APARTMENT HOUSE, containing three (3) separate housekeeping apartments, all of which are now rented to excellent tenants at a total annual rent of eleven hundred ($1,100) dollars. This is a splendid chance to make a perfectly safe and sure investment and where the property is steadily increasing in value.

ON THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1910, AT 5 P. M., on the premises, we will offer the above splendid property. TERMS: Most liberal.

GREEN & REDD, Auctioneers.

By Pollard & Bagby, Real Estate Auctioneers.

TRUSTEE'S AUCTION SALE OF FRAME DWELLING, NO. 1004 NORTH FIRST STREET.

In execution of a deed of trust, dated July 14, 1906, and recorded in the clerk's office of Richmond, Chancery Court, D. B. 1st page 425, default having been made in the payment of a portion of the debt secured by said deed, I will sell by auction, on the premises, on THURSDAY, SEPT. 29, 1910, at 5:30 o'clock P. M., the above mentioned property, containing about 25 feet front by an irregular depth.

TERMS: Cash.

H. R. POLLARD, JR., Trustee.

P. S.—More satisfactory terms can be arranged by seeing the auctioneers.

Auction Sales, Future Days.

By J. Thompson Brown & Co., 1113 Main Street.

TRUSTEE SALE, FRAME COTTAGE, NO. 1530 ASHLAND STREET, AND SMALL SHOP OR STORE IN REAR. A 20 PER CENT INVESTMENT.

By virtue of a deed of trust, dated March 24, 1904, and recorded in Henrico Circuit Court, D. B. 169 B, page 102, to secure a note therein described, default being made and being required so to do, we will sell at public auction, on the premises, on MONDAY, OCT. 3, 5:30 P. M., lot of land with improvements thereon at northeast corner Ashland and Washington Streets, fronting 30 feet by a depth of 90 feet.

TERMS: Cash as to expense of sale and to pay $206. balance due on note, with interest from September 24th, and balance in one year.

REAL ESTATE SEC'Y CO., Trustee.

BROWN & CO., Auctioneers.

Sealed Proposals.

OFFICE OF THE DEPOT QUARTERMASTER, Washington, D. C., September 21, 1910.—Sealed proposals in triplicate will be received at this office until 11 o'clock A. M. THURSDAY, October 6, 1910, and then opened, for the work of resurfacing roadway at Salisbury, N. C. National Cemetery. Specifications can be had on application to this office and from the superintendent, National Cemetery, Salisbury, N. C. Proposals should be marked "Proposals for Resurfacing Roadway at Salisbury, N. C." and addressed to H. L. PETERS, Captain and Quartermaster, U. S. A., Washington, D. C.

By Edward S. Rose Company, Real Estate Auctioneers.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF

NO. 1519 BAINBRIDGE STREET, WASHINGTON WARD, RICHMOND, VA.

In execution of the below mentioned decree, we will sell, by auction, upon the premises, on FRIDAY, THE 30TH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, 1910, AT 5 O'CLOCK P. M., the property located and numbered as above, which consists of a store, with dwelling above. The lot has a front of 25 by 110 feet, more or less.

Owing to the generally displayed by Washington Ward (formerly Manchester) in adopting old Richmond, property has taken unto itself an upward move. So come to our sale and take this in before it grows beyond your reach.

TERMS: One-third cash; the residue in two equal installments, payable six and twelve months from day of sale, and the purchaser executing notes therefor, and the title retained until the whole purchase money is paid and a conveyance directed by the court; or all in cash, at the option of the purchaser.

JO LANE STERN, CONWAY R. SANDS, Special Commissioners.

In the Clerk's Office of the Hustings Court, Part II, of the City of Richmond: Wm. M. Parrish, who sues, etc., Plaintiff against

Charles Harman, adm'r, etc., Defendant

I, E. Du Val, clerk of the said court, do certify that the bond required of the special commissioners by the decree rendered in said cause on the first day of August, 1910, has been duly given.